

Keio University Law School Symposium

Comparative Legal Education in Japan and Mekong Region Countries

Partner Universities

Thammasat University, Faculty of Law (Thailand), Pannasastra University, Faculty of Law and Public Affairs (Cambodia), University of Economic and Law (Ho Chi Minh, Vietnam), Hanoi Law University (Hanoi, Vietnam), National University of Laos, Faculty of Law and Political Science (Laos), University of Yangon, Department of Law (Myanmar)

Date

Saturday, March 4th 2017
13:00 ~ 17:30

Venue

Keio University Mita Campus
South Building 4th Basement Floor
Distance Learning Room

Free to Attend

Now, the investment is rapidly growing in Mekong area. The market is expanding and economy is developing, but at the same time, we are facing with the new legal issues. Keio University Law School is developing the Program to foster Asian Global Legal Professions (PAGLEP) who can take strong leaderships to finding solutions for the global legal issues.

We held the symposium about comparative legal education. Our partner universities in Mekong region countries also join and discuss together.

Program * We Will be Providing Simultaneous Interpreter (English-Japanese).

- Part1 Current Status of Legal Education in Japan and Mekong region countries universities
- Part2 Panel Discussion
How to Foster the Asian Global Legal Professions
- Part3 Discussion
How to improve the legal education
Common Goals of the Program for Asian Global Legal Professions(PAGLEP)

Contact

Keio University Law School Global Law and Development(KEIGLAD)
ls-keiglad@adst.keio.ac.jp

